CHINESE POLICE OFFICER SENT TO PRISON

Jury Returns Verdict Of Guilty On Drug Charge

21,800 HEROIN PILLS SEIZED

At the Criminal Sessions yesterday Mr. Justice E. H. Williams, Acting Chief Justice, sentenced three Chinese, one of whom was a police constable in the Hongkong Police Force, to terms of imprisonment totalling nine and a half years' hard labour, when they appeared on charges of unlawful possession of 21,800 heroin pills.

The accused were:—Chan Chik, 28, Li Ming, 32, and Yip Kam Pui, 32, the last named being a member of the Police Force.

The following were the jury empanelled:—Messrs. J. F. Anderson (foreman), I. Newhouse, E. J. M. Churn, W. L. Alexander, A. W. E. Leong, D. McKenzie and Foh Kee-wai.

Mr. J. Whyatt, Crown Counsel, said that the one unusual feature of the case was that Yip Kam-pui, third accused, was a member of the Police Force in the Colony.

Mr. Whyatt said that on the afternoon of September 23, Revenue Officer J. L. Stephens and a raiding party went to the second floor No. 1, First Street. They had to force open the door and when they entered they smelt an odour peculiar to that of heroin.

First accused was standing in the passage way outside a cubicle inside of which were the other two defendants. Third accused was lying on a bed on which were heroin pills and a smoking outfit. In the kitchen were found two baskets containing lighted cigarettes over which rested two trays of soft hot pills.

FIRST AID BOOK

Heroin pills were also discovered in a chest of drawers in which was a First Aid Book stamped with the third accused's Police Force number, C. 141.

When charged, first accused denied knowledge of the pills. Second accused said that he was told to look after the cubicle by the first accused. Third accused made a statement to the effect that he went to the premises to look for a clansman.

Evidence was then given by Revenue Officer Stephens, Mr. D. E. Davies, Assistant Government Analyst, Ma Siu-kwong and Chan Sou-wing, Police Interpreters.

First and second accused said that they had nothing to say in their defence but third accused elected to go into the witness box. Yip stated that he went to the premises to look for a clansman to take his son to a doctor. The clansman was out and, as it was raining, he decided to wait but shortly after the place was raided.

The jury returned a unanimous verdict of guilty against all three accused and Mr. Whyatt informed His Lordship that third accused joined the Police Force in 1922 and during his period of service had been reported on 42 occasions for breach of discipline. On one occasion he was found in an opium den while supposed to be on duty.

First and second accused were sentenced to three years' hard labour each while third accused was sentenced to three and a half years' imprisonment.

LADY HEAVILY FINED

A fine of $150 was imposed by Mr. Q. A. A. Macfadyen at the Kowloon Court yesterday on Mrs. Lo Lan, of No. 1, Homutun Hill Road, charged with causing pollution of Government filtered water in that she had, on or before September 22, caused or permitted an illegal cross connection to be fixed from the flush supply storage tank (of unfiltered well water) to the Government filtered water storage tank.

Ng Kam, contractor, charged with having made this connection without the consent of the Water Authority, was fined $75.

Mr. Innan Din, House Service Inspector, prosecuted. Mr. P. H. Sin, appearing for the defendant, pleaded guilty.

STOWAWAY CAUTIONED

Sam Sheridan, 20, seaman, from Palo Alto, Cal., was cautioned by Mr. E. H. Hensworth at the Kowloon Court yesterday when he appeared on a charge of stowing away on board the s.s. President Coolidge from Manila.

The Police did not wish to press the charge against Sheridan as the crew of the Coolidge had offered to pay his passage back to America.

On a similar charge, Zinyony Bunkin, 26, was fined $50, or in default six weeks with hard labour. He had one previous conviction in Hongkong for the same offence.

For entering the Colony without a valid passport, Bunkin was fined $10, in default two weeks with hard labour.

Nearly Caused A Riot At Shaukiwan

REMARKING THAT DEFENDANT had almost created a riot because of his stubborn actions, Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday imposed a fine of $25 or one month's imprisonment, and a consecutive sentence of four months' hard labour without the option of a fine on Cheung Sui-fuk, a coolie, who was convicted on charges of unlawful possession of six tins of scrap copper and assaulting a police officer while resisting arrest.

Police Constable J. W. Matthews was the complainant. He told the Court that he saw defendant taking out the metal for sale in Main Street, Shaukiwan, on Tuesday. He approached defendant to question him, and Leung, on seeing him threw away the metal and gave him a blow. Witness said he struggled with the defendant who shouted to the crowd that had gathered to strike him.

Constable Matthews then said the crowd started violent actions, throwing stones and banana stems at him. He blew the police whistle to summon help and soon two Indian constables came to his assistance. Together they brought defendant to the police station.

ALLEGED ARM ROBBERY

Appearing before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday charged with armed robbery, Leung Tin, 23, carpenter, was remanded for 72 hours on the application of Detective-Inspector Darkin, the prosecuting officer.

Leung was alleged to have, armed with a revolver, and together with two others, entered No. 65, Leighton Hill Road ground floor and robbed the inmates of jewellery to a total value of $250, besides the sum of $163 Hongkong currency and various sums of Chinese currencies, on October 15.

MENU FOR DINNER

Green Pea and Lettuce Soup
Boiled Duck with Orange and Port Wine Sauce
Platter of New Turnips, Mashed,
French Beans and New Potatoes
Fresh Fruit Salad
and Coffee Junket

For green pea and lettuce soup you will need 3 pints of green peas and 1 pint of young green peas, 5 pints water, fresh mint, two cos lettuce little celery salt, pepper, salt; 4 oz. butter, 2 large cucumbers, 2 or 3 onions, and a little cucumber and cauliflower boiled separately to garnish.

Boil the water, put in peas, a little fresh mint, celery salt, one lettuce shredded, pepper and salt. Cook till tender—about 20 minutes. Strain off the soup and rub the peas, etc., through a sieve.

Put the butter into a large pan, pare the cucumbers, seed them, cut in pieces about 1/2-inch thick. Slice the onions, shred the other cos lettuce and cook all in the butter till tender. Then put the sieved soup to them, add the pint of young green peas and let it all stew together gently for half an hour. Add a little floor rubbed down with butter to bind all together to a creamy consistency.

It improves the flavour if the shucks of the young peas are boiled in a little water and added to it.

BOILED DUCK

Mince the liver of the duck with a little onion and some grated bacon or ham; add salt and pepper. Put the stuffing inside the duck. Now close the opening; leave the skin of the neck long and bring it round under the duck to close the tail.

Spread a clean pudding cloth on the table and roll the duck in this rather tightly to preserve the shape. Tie up the two ends of the cloth with string. Put into a stewpan with boiling salted water. Boil it quietly for one hour for an ordinary duck, one hour and 10 minutes if large. It will then be cooked.

Take three oranges, peel them and cut the peel in quarters, taking out all the white. Shred the peel as if for julienne soup, put it into water for seven or eight minutes and drain on a cloth. Take the rest of the oranges, removing all the white, and put the pulp into a good reduced stock half glazed. Add two or three spoonfuls of Spanish sauce and a little red wine—port is best. Pass through a sieve, then add the chips of orange peel.

Unpack the duck, serve on a dish, surround with pieces of orange, put a little sauce over the duck and the rest in a sauceboat.

A good fresh fruit salad can be made by preparing the juice of a grapefruit and adding to it some Cointreau or other liqueur you may prefer. Pour it all over some cubes of tinned strawberries, one or more peaches or pears, together with chopped almonds. Sprinkle all with sugar to taste before the liquid is poured over. It should then be left on ice till required.

FISH RECIPES

Fish Pastry

For this dish, you can use any kind of cooked fresh or tinned fish. Mix half a pound of fish with one chopped hard-boiled egg, some white sauce, one teaspoonful of parsley, a little grated lemon rind, one ounce of butter, and a little cooked rice. Prepare about half a pound of flaky pastry, and roll it to a spare, then pile the fish mixture on the centre of the pastry, and fold the corners over to the centre where decoration should be placed. The corners should be left open, then brush the whole over with a little beaten egg, and bake in the oven till the pastry is cooked.

FISH SHAPE

Take equal quantities of any cold cooked fish, and mashed potatoes or cooked rice. Mash it all up together, adding one ounce of butter, one beaten egg, salt and pepper, and a pinch of curry powder. Put the mixture into a greased baking dish or fireproof dish, and make it into the shape of a fish using two knives dipped in milk, and put parsley or mint in for eyes. Bake in a hot oven for about ten minutes, and decorate with lemon and parsley before serving.

SCOTCH SHORTBREAD

Take 1 lb. butter, 2 oz. rice flour, 12 oz. flour, 5 oz. caster sugar. Rub the butter into the sugar, and gradually work in with your fingers, first the rice flour, then the flour. Keep on kneading till the dough is free from cracks, then flatten out and cut into various shapes. Ice the top of each biscuit with water icing, and decorate with a cherry or strips of angelica.

A SIMPLE DINNER

CREAM OF POTATO AND ONION SOUP

Scald 1 quart of milk. Add slowly to 2 cups cooked rice potatoes, beating constantly with rotary beater. Melt 2 tablespoons butter. Stir in 2 tablespoons flour, potato-milk mixture, 1 cup cooked, finely chopped onion, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon pepper and 1 cup sliced frankfurters. Cook, stirring constantly until thickened. Serve at once.

OVEN FRIED CHICKEN

Two 2 1/2 pound chickens
1 cup flour
1 teaspoon salt
1 teaspoon pepper
3 teaspoons fat
1 cup light cream
Order the chicken dressed and cut up. Roll it in the flour, mixed with the salt and pepper; then brown it on all sides in the fat in a skillet. Remove to a casserole or baking dish and add the cream. Cover and bake in a moderate oven about 1 1/2 hours.

APPLE PIE

3 pounds apples
1 cup granulated sugar
2 tablespoons lemon juice
1 cup butter
1 cup brown sugar
1 cup flour
Pare apples, slice and mix with sugar. Chop apples rather finely and pack into pie pan. Sprinkle lemon juice over apples. Cut butter, brown sugar and flour together until the mixture is coarse like cornmeal. Spread mixture over apples and press down firmly, especially at the edges to retain juice. Bake about 50 minutes in a moderate oven until the apples are tender.

Same Girl In Two "Notices To Marry"

Two applications for wedding licences made at Kensington Register Office, W., bear the name of the same girl as the bride-to-be—Miss Margaret Eleanor McNair Scott, twenty-five-year-old daughter of Dr. R. F. McNair Scott, of Queen's Gate-gardens, Kensington.

Mr. Edmund Ronald Leach, twenty-seven-year-old anthropologist, of Kingsley-way, Finchley N.W., applied for a licence to marry Miss Scott.

A few hours later Miss Scott went to the same register office and applied for a licence to marry Mr. Patrick Wyndham Murray-Threpland, a landowner, who lives at New House, Llanishen, Cardiff.

He is thirty-four, and the son of Colonel Murray-Threpland, of Dryburgh Abbey, St. Boswells.

"My daughter is going to marry Mr. Murray-Threpland," Dr. Scott said. "That is all I know."

"Mr. Leach is a friend of hers. I suppose there is nothing to prevent any one making such an application if they wish."

Mr. Leach said "I returned on September 29 from Kurdistan, where I have been studying anthropology for three months. Miss Scott returned to London two days later from Brittany."

"Naturally we had been in communication during our absence. She is an expert archaeologist, and Mr. Murray-Threpland is also an archaeologist. He has been in Wales for the past three weeks, and only returned to London recently."

"I have seen Miss Scott and I understand from her that her engagement to Mr. Murray-Threpland will be announced and that they are to be married."

"It was simply a case of a very charming young woman having to choose between two very excellent young men."

"I wish them every happiness. The three of us will continue to be friends after their marriage."

NET CURTAINS

Look Good As New If Properly Laundered

The success with which net curtains may be washed depends to no small extent on how they have been made. All too often they shrink. That is why it pays, when they are being made, to baste in an inconspicuous tuck at the top. It is easier to take this out than to change hems before or after laundering.

After the curtains are taken down they should be shaken to remove the loose dust. Then their dimensions are measured to forestall doubt about the right length later. Next the tucks are taken out and any holes or tears mended.

If the curtain are of white linen or cotton, they are put to soak in lukewarm soapy water. This preliminary treatment loosens the dirt, but it cannot be used with coloured window hangings or white ones with coloured trimmings because the colour may run.

Lukewarm wash and rinse waters should also be used and a rich suds is always desirable. It cleans better and more rapidly. First add your favourite kind of laundry soap to a small quantity of hot water. When dissolved thoroughly add more water to make the correct temperature.

Very thin curtains may be souped up and down in the soap water by hand. At least two rinses in clear tepid water are desirable; three will do no harm.

All cotton net curtains are improved by the use of a thin starch solution. This imparts a finish which resembles that of new fabric. From one to two teaspoons of starch to a quart of water will give a satisfactory result.

When curtains are placed on the line to dry they are hung straight across and the corners are squared. If they are hung out of doors it is important that there should be little wind.

When ironing curtains patience must be exercised to achieve the desired results. Nets, laces and thin rayons may be dried on stretchers which measure slightly smaller than the curtains before washing. When they are dry, some of the edges may have a "looped" appearance, as the fabric is stretched a little more in the places where it is attached to the frame. This condition may be overcome with a warm but not hot iron, pulling and pressing the curtain until the edges are even.

COMPARE THE MEASUREMENTS

When ironing net curtains have them slightly damp all over. This is best accomplished by sprinkling them thoroughly and allowing them to stand tightly rolled for thirty minutes or more. It takes time to shake out every curtain, to square its corners and to put it on the ironing-board straight, but it pays. Then you iron parallel with the selvedge edges.

There is a certain knack in handling loosely woven fabrics which are so easily pulled out of shape with the iron. The curtain must be pulled and patted with the hands while ironing to make it take the shape and size desired. Always compare the measurement of the ironed curtain with that of its measurement before washing. Sometimes a little tuck needs to be taken before it is hung.

ODDS AND ENDS OF INFORMATION

Wild flowers usually wilt immediately if they are picked in the ordinary way and placed in cold water. But if the stems are put in boiling water as soon as they are picked this will seal them, so that the flowers will last some time. A little salt in the water helps to keep them.

No vessel that has contained milk, beaten eggs, flour, or any other substance, that thickens with heat should be placed at once into hot water, or it will be troublesome to clean.

A little machine-oil applied occasionally to the casters of furniture will keep them in good condition. Be careful not to put too much, or it will mark the carpet.

SHORTS CAUSE LONG FACES

The town of Burbridge, Quebec, has banned the wearing of shorts by men in public.

The Mayor, Mr. Alexander Lafrenier, explains that complaints by village residents of "immodest" and "immoral" costumes worn by summer visitors, male and female, caused the Town Council to pass a by-law banning shorts on its streets or in any public place within its limits.

Signs are posted around the town warning visitors of the decree. A constable patrols the outskirts to warn visitors that they risk arrest if they wear shorts.

Mr. Chamberlain Against An Election

Mr. Neville Chamberlain is opposed to an early General Election. In spite of strong pressure by Conservative, who are urging him to "cash-in" on the Munich peace plan, he is unwilling to go to the country yet.

He does not wish to exploit his peace "triumph."

But the Premier will declare for an election when the Spanish War ends.

This is likely to come in November. A Spanish settlement would be Mr. Chamberlain's trump card at the election, for it would, in his opinion indicate that his appeasement policy was working according to plan.

Intense pressure is being brought to bear on both sides in Spain. Mussolini is ready to withdraw 10,000 volunteers. Once this is done the Anglo-Italian agreement would be put into operation. An armistice would be declared and the partitioning of Spain would be negotiated at a round table conference.

A constitutional monarchy for the Franco territory is already being discussed, and a Republican government for Catalonia and other parts held by the Government forces.

The Canton Customs Inspection Office and the Kowloon Customs Office issued a proclamation on Sunday upon instructions from the Department of Economics prohibiting the export of cinnamon.

Catholic Truth Society Held Annual Meeting

The annual general meeting of the Catholic Truth Society of Hongkong was held on Tuesday night in the Parochial Hall of the Rosary Church, Kowloon. The president, Mr. H. Macnamara was in the chair.

When the report and statement of accounts were passed, the chairman called attention to the substantial amount of work that was accomplished during the past year. In its publications the Society has concentrated almost entirely on the production of Chinese pamphlets, and for those in English it has drawn on the large selection of pamphlets published in other countries, mainly in England and the United States. More than eighteen thousand in pamphlets have been disposed of during the year—ten thousand in English and eight thousand in Chinese—and in addition to these upward of forty thousand Chinese leaflets.

The popularity of many of the Chinese pamphlets and leaflets published by the Society has been proved by the fact that a number of these have been completely sold out and are now being reprinted.

NEW PAMPHLETS

A number of new pamphlets are ready for printing and a number of others are in the course of preparation, but a limit has been set to the activities of the Society in this direction by the fact that most of its available funds have already been expended on previous publications. It is hoped, therefore, that in the coming year the number of members will be greatly increased as it is their subscriptions that form the Society's regular source of income.

CONVENT'S HELP

The Society is greatly indebted to the French Convent School for having specially produced a play for the benefit of the Society. The proceeds of this play enabled the Society to produce several new publications and special thanks were expressed to those responsible for the performance.

A special work undertaken by the Society is the spread of Catholic periodicals. It undertakes to order any Catholic book or periodical from any part of the world, and a great many people both in Hongkong and throughout China have availed themselves of this service.

During the coming year it is hoped to extend the work of the Society by publishing many new pamphlets in Chinese and in English and a special appeal was made for active co-operation on the part of members and for the enrolment of new members.

PRESIDENT RE-ELECTED

It was announced that Mr. Macnamara had been asked by His

THE QUEEN SENDS HER THANKS

Appreciation by the Queen of the great welcome she received at Clydebank on the occasion of the launch of the Cunard White Star liner is expressed in a letter to Lord Abernethy, chairman of John Brown and Co., from Buckingham Palace, sent on behalf of Her Majesty.

The letter, which is dated September 28 over the signature of A. Lascelles, is as follows:—"The Queen desires me to convey to you and your fellow-directors and to all connected with the shipyard her sincere appreciation of the arrangements made for the memorable ceremony yesterday."

"It was a great pleasure to Her Majesty to be able, in spite of circumstances, to launch this splendid ship which bears her name, and she will always remember with gratitude the moving welcome given to her and to the Princesses by those present at the ceremony."

A Heroine Of The Great War Leaves £22,000

Among wills published recently is that of Miss Katherine Louise Rennie, of White Post, Walkwood-road, Beaconsfield, Bucks, who was awarded the French Croix de Guerre and Medaille Militaire during the war. She left £22,573 (net £19,900).

Miss Rennie, who was about 65 years old, was organising secretary of the Women's Emergency Corps during the war. A relative said "She was one of the most modest women I have ever known. She would never say why she was awarded the decorations, but I believe it was for sending food to French soldiers when she was under heavy fire."

"She ran canteens on the Western Front with headquarters at Compiègne. She and her helpers often had to sleep in the forest and were often exposed to fire."

"Most of her work was done among French soldiers, and they loved her. When she returned to England she has many touching letters from wounded soldiers. 'She lived a very quiet life after the war. She was a great traveller and visited Mexico, California, Australia, and Turkey. 'She was a relation of John Rennie, who built Waterloo, London and Southwark bridges."

FRUIT-CAKE PUDDING

A fruit cake that has become dry may be used up satisfactorily as a steamed pudding if treated in the following way. First trim off any burnt or overbaked portions with a greater or a sharp knife. Then crumble the cake into a mixing-bowl. Beat up an egg with a teaspoonful or so milk, and pour it gradually over the crumbled cake stirring it well in with a fork. When the mixture is thoroughly blended turn it into a buttered basin and steam it for about an hour. If the cake is rather plain, the addition of a dessertspoonful of marmalade, improves the flavour.

STALE BUT USEFUL

Stale bread has its uses. An extremely simple yet very good sweet can be made by cutting slices from a stale loaf, trimming them, and soaking them in beaten egg, mixed with a little milk, and frying them a golden brown in butter. The slices are then either sugar-ed or served with jam.

TIGER CUBS BORN AT LONDON ZOO

For the first time in the history of the London Zoo there are home-bred tiger "quins" hidden away behind the Lion House.

The Indian tigress, Jezabel, gave birth to them recently and because she has already had two other families of which nothing was even seen she was not given a chance to destroy the new quintuplets.

They were taken from her immediately after birth and a dog was called in to act as foster-mother.

Jezabel parted with her babies with alacrity. All the keeper did was offer her a joint of meat as an inducement, and she walked away from them into another den. Afterwards she gave no evidence that she missed them.

These cubs are particularly interesting, because their father is Amur, the Siberian tiger. They are strong and healthy, and four of them are males. They are unusually large cubs, and their fur is long and light in colour.

The fifth, a daughter, is smaller than her brothers, and is just a miniature edition of Jezabel.

DANGERS OF LOW BIRTH-RATE

Sir L. Hill's Fears For The Empire

The danger to the Empire through a declining population and the loss of millions of pounds through preventable ill-health were two of the topics dealt with by Sir Leonard Hill, the scientist, in his presidential address to the conference of the Sanitary Inspectors' Association at Edinburgh recently. "The Government," he said, dealing with the population problem, "should act at once, and, on the lines found successful by Germany, stop the decay of the British Empire which is now going on through birth control."

Sir Leonard pointed out that Britain's birth-rate, 35.4 in 1890, was now less than 15 per thousand. In all the democratic countries of Europe the birth-rate was under 15, while Germany had raised her rate to 19. Italy's rate was 22. Japan increased her population by about 1,000,000 a year.

"ON THE DOWN GRADE"
It had been estimated that by 1951 the number of children in England and Wales would have fallen from 9,500,000 in 1931 to 5,500,000, while people aged 45 and over would have increased by 2,500,000.

This was because we had been doing everything to secure comfort and prolong life, and nothing to encourage the birth of children, on which the virility of a nation depended.

"The British race," Sir Leonard said, "is on the down grade all over the world, and it is not due to crowding, because in Australia and New Zealand the birth-rate has fallen to under 17."

Commenting on the numbers leaving agriculture every year for other work—about 10,000—Sir Leonard said: "There is no doubt that the peasant who is not over-taxed has the happiest life. Open-air work in natural surroundings makes for health and content never attained by many of the richest men of the city with flabby bodies and tired hearts."

Sir Leonard said that it had been computed that 225,000,000 were spent yearly on ill-health £100,000,000 of it being due to workers' lost time and lessened efficiency. There could be no doubt that by tracing social and economic causes of ill-health and accidents, and making necessary adjustments, many millions might be saved.

Public authorities legally could spend money only on relief of suffering not on inquiry into prevention, while the Government did not spend on medical research as much as the cost of one torpedo boat.

NAVAL AIR SCHOOL CHANGES SITE

No 1 Flying Training School has returned to its original home at Netheravon, Wiltshire, after three years at Leuchars, Fife.

Fleet Air Arm flight is carried out at the school. Between 30 and 40 Naval and Marine officers are under instruction.

The course includes catapult-launching of aircraft by apparatus fixed to a base on the aerodrome and "dummy" deck landing practice on a marked-out plan.

Training on the catapult equips naval airmen for duties they may be required to fulfil as pilots of floatplanes and amphibians carried in warships.

"Dummy" deck-landing prepares them for the difficult work of alighting in a land plane on the deck of an aircraft carrier under steam.

BELOVED BRAT

"Bringing back to the screen, in a triumphant new career, that clever and popular ex-star, Dolores Costello, a delightful Warner Bros. drama called 'Beloved Brat' is scheduled to be shown at the Queen's Theatre to-day.

Miss Costello is not the star of the picture. That's Bonita Granville, the brilliant 14-year-old who stands alone in her portrayal of brattish and pestiferous youngsters. Dolores plays the part of her teacher, the principal of a school conducted on the strictest of lines. And it is Dolores who reforms the mean, selfish little creature and changes her into a perfect young lady.

"Beloved Brat" proves a splendid vehicle for the start of Miss Costello's comeback climb toward stardom.

WIDE OPEN FACES

There aren't many people as funny as Joe E. Brown can be when he puts his mind to it. And he really concentrates in his latest picture, Columbia's 'Wide Open Faces', which started its local run at the Majestic Theatre to-day. It's simply the most hilarious picture this town has seen in many a moon.

As a soda jerker, Joe is a scream. As an amateur detective, he's just too good to be true. At the beginning of the picture, Joe is the "Maitre D'Squirt" (soda dispenser, to you) at the Willow Springs Drug Store. A notorious gangster in the person of Stanley Fields alights from a bus one day and asks Joe to drive him out to a deserted inn. Joe is just about to do so when G-men grab Fields.

START CHEERING

"The Big Apple," sensational dance craze from the south, has taken the nation by storm. Everybody's doing it. But it takes Hollywood to immortalize it.

The screen at the King's Theatre is currently rocking with the footbeats of "The Big Apple," as film stars lock arms and go into their dance in "Start Cheering."

Hal LeRoy, famous eccentric dancer of Ziegfeld Follies fame, and recently in the Broadway musical production, "Strike Me Pink," and Virginia Dale, head an ensemble of 200 film dancers in a mass interpretation of "The Big Apple."

AN ATHEIST AND HIS FUNERAL

In his will Mr. William Cole, of High-street, Cowes, chemist, who left £4,444 (n.p. £1,095), stated:

"I die as I have lived, an Atheist. I direct that no religious ceremony whatever shall take place at my funeral. I most solemnly abjure my adopted daughter to see that this great wish of mine be not violated. I also direct that my brief philosophy, enclosed herewith, be published in at least two local or else Isle of Wight papers, so that those who wish may understand the real meaning of Atheism."

He left all his property to his adopted daughter, Ivy Hilda Parsons, of the same address.

"GOOD FELLOW" A FALSE IDEAL

Religious Teaching In Public Schools

HEADMASTER FINDS "A BETRAYAL"

Teaching in public schools sometimes substitutes conduct for religion and makes "the good fellow" the ideal of Christian life, said Mr. J. T. Christie, headmaster of Westminster School, to the Modern Churchmen's Conference at Loughborough, Leicestershire, recently.

"The public schools, like all thoroughly English institutions, give a vast importance to behaviour," he said. "All the powers of religion are enlisted on the side of good conduct. Sermons are exhortations to play the game; confirmation is a clearing house for past failure and future resolves; and private prayers are an expanded version of 'Please make me a good boy.'"

"I know that this state of things is passing away. I also know how unfair it is as a description of what is going on. But much of it is left, both in schoolboys and adults, and its effects are obvious."

"It substitutes conduct for religion. It forgets that no religion has ever begun by proclaiming 'You ought to do so and so,' but 'God has acted in such and such a way.' It centres the mind on self, its failures and successes, and it supersedes the unattainable ideal of the Christian life by the eminently accessible idea of the good fellow and the gentleman, which may be low or high, according to the varying tone of the community."

RELIGION AS A CULT

"Meantime religion itself is regarded as an extra, a cult for those who like that sort of thing. This substitution of ethics for religion is one of the worst and commonest betrayals of the religious ideal of education."

Mr. Christie spoke of the need for safeguarding the natural religious instincts of adolescents from dogma. Many people to-day were suffering from repressed religion, which would result in frustration and phobia as surely as the repression of other social instincts.

Mr. R. B. Henderson, headmaster of Allyn's School, Dulwich: Great democratic institutions such as the L.C.C. are essentially Christian, but are subject to the great evils of bureaucracy and their accompanying over-centralisation. Teachers serving them suffer from their work being mixed up with the changing currents of party politics.

PALESTINE NOW UNDER FRENCH AIR MARTIAL LAW PROGRAMME

Military Control Of Police

London, October 19.

DISPATCHES REACHING HERE from the various parts of Palestine all go to indicate that despite the local successes achieved by the British forces the Arab rebellion has assumed a more menacing shape during the last 24 hours. As a result of these sudden developments it has been decided, says the "Evening Standard," to place the whole of Palestine under martial law as from to-day.

It is reported from Jerusalem that the Government has issued a decree placing the entire police force under military control.

ATTATURK'S CONDITION

No Marked Change

Ankara, Oct. 19

There is no marked change in the condition of the Turkish President, Kemal Attaturk, according to a bulletin issued by the doctors in attendance. Although he spent a better night, it is feared that he will not have sufficient strength to overcome his severe illness.

In view of these fears official and political quarters here are already discussing his successor. According to the Constitution, before the election of a new President, which must take place within 24 hours, the functions of this office are exercised by the Chairman of the National Assembly.

THREE NAMES

Most of the Turkish Deputies are in Istanbul where a special train is in readiness to take them to Ankara. It is understood that the Attaturk has named three prominent Turkish personalities from among whom he desired the new President to be selected. One of them is Fethi Bey, now Turkish Ambassador to London. The two others are Tewfik Fawzi Bey, Chief of General Staff and the former Premier Ismet Inoenue.

It is stated that Fethi Bey is not likely to be elected, and the Chief of General Staff has declined to stand. The choice lies between Celal Bayar, present Premier and ex-Premier Ismet Inoenue.—Transocean.

In a leading article the "Evening Standard" says that the British Cabinet is now confronted with two possibilities in dealing with the administration of the mandate. It can either adhere to the mandate or impose its authority upon the country. The latter course would mean a long campaign against guerilla bands resulting in heavy losses on both sides. It would also leave a feeling of bitterness among the Arab population.

PROSPECT OF PEACE

The other possibility is one which alone offers a prospect of peace. It consists in seeking to arrive at an understanding with Arab Nationalism.

The Arabs are not anti-British but rebelling against the manner in which the British Government is administering the mandate. They would be prepared to enter upon a truce and to put an end to the campaign of terror if the British Government agreed to drop the plan of a partition and to place immediate restrictions on Jewish immigration.

Although a policy of this sort, adds the "Evening Standard," would arouse a good deal of opposition in England, it would be wiser for the British Government to face such an opposition and to defeat it by the method of persuasion instead of continuing the struggle in the Near East that only bayonets can decide.—Transocean.

clined to stand. The choice lies between Celal Bayar, present Premier and ex-Premier Ismet Inoenue.—Transocean.

Over 2,600 First Line Planes

Paris, Oct. 19.

The French air armament programme which will eventually provide the air force with 4,000 military planes is elucidated in an article appearing yesterday in the "Intransigeant."

The aim within the next few months is to increase the number of planes to 1,748 according to the paper and within the next two years France will possess 2,617 first line planes exclusive of the reserve craft.

This programme will place a heavy burden upon the country with only 40 million inhabitants and one which is confronted with serious economic problems.

Investments and credits to an extent of one milliard francs will be necessary for financing this project. Of this sum 450 million francs will be necessary for State controlled factories, 30 million for supporting private companies, 200 million for private companies that supply the necessary raw materials and essential parts and 250 million for the decentralizing of the Hispano motor works in Carbet and Gnome works in Le Mans.

Pointing out that the aeroplane industry is naturally enjoying a boom, the paper also states that through the strict organisation and efficient measures the number of working hours necessary for the construction of one aeroplane has been halved.—Transocean.

READY-MADE EXCUSES!

Shanghai, Oct. 19.

Two big explosions were detected yesterday afternoon in the direction of Kiangwan.

The Japanese authorities explained that they were blasting buildings as part of the destruction programme around the race course.—Reuter.

EVENING MAKE-UP HAS ITS OWN SECRETS

The New Golden Orange Tinted Lights

EVERY WOMAN LIKES to look her best in the evening under the soft glow of modern decorative lighting. Much of the new golden orange-tinted light now being used for the home dining-room, lounge, the restaurant and hall-room is schemed with this end in view. There are fascinating beauty requisites specially planned for evening use under artificial light, when contours are softened and the radiance of jewels and the richer colourings of the fabrics worn demand an ethereal distinction in beauty colouring.

DARK or fair, the soignée coiffure in vogue, with its cluster of shapely curls, is designed to give a perfect frame to features and beauty colouring. Powder and cosmetics may be chosen to bestow a little more delicacy.

The finished effect may be frankly sophisticated. A clear, ivory pink pallor with shadowed eyes and vivid lips is a distinctive type of make-up for the woman with black or very dark hair and eyes. This is especially becoming when any of the bright lacquer shades or gold or silvery brocades with a definite tint are worn. A more youthful vivacity in complexion colouring is needed for the butterfly hues that will be among the chosen dance frocks this season.

DAYTIME COMPLEXION tints can usually be slightly deepened in tone under artificial lighting by using a little richer tint in powder. One of the fundamental rules in the choice of powder is to be sure that it matches the medium tone of the skin.

For the warmer toned English type of complexion that so often goes with golden hair glints a very lovely evening make-up is attained with the use of a desert rose powder with a pink camellia rouge and lipstick. For mid-colourings the same rouge and lipstick can be chosen with a current rose, or rose Indian powder. A touch of blue or green eye-shadow can be put on lightly to give glamour that is permissible with an evening ensemble.

PERFECT ALLIANCE

These beauty preparations from a New Bond-street beauty salon are designed to achieve the perfect alliance of a natural yet enhanced complexion. Powders are blended to skin tones. Lipstick and rouge harmonise, and should always be the same in tint. This choice in tint can be varied if needed to give a better effect with a basic ensemble colour, as with the curious magenta blue and dull cerise that are among the evening fabric shades shown this season.

EVENING MAKE-UP usually takes a little more time in the first stages if the face is to appear fresh and unlined, and modern beauty aids are all so cleverly produced that the process can be rather a restful prelude than otherwise, while the extra time spent ensures a more lasting beauty effect.

A cleansing cream, used in conjunction with a skin freshener, with a final touch of finishing cream as a rouge and powder base, is the best preparation for the daytime or evening complexion.

A pale tea-rose-tinted finishing cream from the same salon has special qualities because it possesses a lotion base and cannot cause any untoward shine. A touch of this cream smoothed on very lightly with the finger-tips provides a powder foundation that keeps the skin smooth and velvety for hours.

One of the subtle notes in evening make-up is to use the same powder base for the throat and shoulders.

CLEVER USE OF CREAM rouge is important. The merest spot should be blended in with the tips of the fingers, giving a natural glow to the skin directly after the use of a finishing cream and before powdering.

A dry rouge, which is sometimes better with an oily type of skin, should be applied between the powdering process. When any powder is used it is a mistake to rub. The powder should be used freely with a large puff passed lightly over the whole surface of the face. Then the superfluous powder should be removed, leaving a matt skin with an unpowdered appearance.

Lipstick should be used to soften the lip outlines and accentuate colour. A lovely make-up is often marred by outlining the lips heavily. Eyelash darkener can improve the light tips that shorten

DRESSMAKING ZIPP-UP

Everything goes with a zipp in the autumn dress shows. There are zipped backs, zipped skirts, zipped shoulders, zipped plackets. And a lot of those dresses that look as if you'd been poured into them, which means zips from neck to hem.

Up to now it has been a bit difficult to change over to an all-zipp dress, or to have one made from some of those lovely fabrics you see in the materials-by-the-yard departments.

For full-length zips have been hard to come by.

This autumn the zipp situation has been taken in hand. You can now get those flexible plastic ones in ten new colours and in lengths ranging from 4 1/2 to 44 inches. The 4 1/2 inch ones are for

In commemoration of Confucius' Birthday, this Company is closing to business today. Business will resume tomorrow at usual hours.

THE WING ON CO., LTD.

Round About

Four, five and six gangs of coolies stand about the godown and pier over on the Kowloon side where the boats come in to discharge passengers and cargo. A heavily laden vessel has just tied up and work of unloading and loading is about to begin.

The number one of each coolie gang wait the orders of pier and godown superintendents. Fruit, rope, paper, machinery, flour, and other sorts of cargo must be removed from the pier into large cooling warehouses.

The ship's hatches are open, cranes begin to chatter and moan as they dip into the ship's insides and bring forth tons of freight. The work of the coolies is ready.

Gang number ones congregate with the coolies, each drawing a round ball of paper from a large upside-down straw cooile hat.

In haste they open the ball of paper; some find a hole, others just a crumpled slip of paper.

Those fortunate coolies with their slip of paper having a punched hole gather their cargo hooks, the rope nets and proceed to the job of work designated. Others are assigned to various labours through the "hole in the paper" system until all coolies are busy with work.

Then, peace reigns among the unloading coolies!

pockets, and the 44 inch for house-coats and the day or evening frocks that fasten right down the front.

There is a special long back-zipp that, Paris has decided, is the best way of fastening the new high-necked long-sleeved "tulip-line" frocks with decorated fronts. These flexible zips may be washed or dry-cleaned, but they must not be boiled or touched with a hot iron.

Hello & Goodbye

—BY A.W. HYER—

Ah! the very fine weather certainly gives all of us energy. Dashing about yesterday, we hunted high and low and found several travel transports just not coming into our village.

The President Coolidge has just about been holding down the piers at Kowloon, the buoys are bobbing up and down in the bright weather, no ships to hold them down. And all the people out at Kai Tak are taking a rest cure of one day for themselves.

But to-day, Friday, and Saturday they will have us spinning about in circles trying to say hello and goodbye to everybody. S.S. Cremer

THIS FINE DUTCH SHIP came into harbour and tied up to her buoy. Mr. and Mrs. V. Neyle thought they were going ashore after six months of vacationing in England. And go about their business unknown to us. Oh no! How do you do, we are very glad to see you back with us.

Mr. Neyle is the head of the Engineering School at the Far East Flying Training School and he is glad to be back midst his plugs, bolts, engines and propellers.

S.S. Canton
Sailing from New York on November 4 the President Adams, newly reconditioned and on a round-the-world trip, will carry a complete passenger list. This steamer will travel via Shanghai as will the President Coolidge on her homeward trip to America.

The next Dollar vessel due in the Colony is the President Monroe which is still under the Freight Ruling of the government and leaves San Francisco on November 7.

Pan-American Airways

THE CHINA CLIPPER landed at Kai Tak noon yesterday with Captain W. Culbertson saying hello. But there were no passengers, only mail from Manila. The China Clipper duly went to Guam and returned to Hongkong to bring the extra mail service. This morning off she goes at 8.30 for America.

Imperial Airways

FRIDAY 6.30 A.M. "Della" took off for Bangkok with mail and freight. Seven a.m. the "Delphinus" followed with passengers.

Mrs. A. S. Bowen went flying down to Bangkok and maybe a trip to Singapore. Visiting and business takes this nice lady to the Siamese city, but she will soon be returning via Imperial Airways to the Colony.

Due to a delay on the main line of Imperial the mail and passenger plane will not arrive until this afternoon. And we will have a full load of passengers coming into Kai Tak via Air France this morning. And so what with the Potsdam, Empress of Russia and all our planes we will have plenty of hellos and goodbyes for you this week-end.

NOW IT IS FUKIEN

Japanese Ships Massing

Foochow, Oct. 19.
Strict vigilance is being taken by Chinese defenders along the Fukien coast following the arrival off Amoy and Kinmen of more than 50 Japanese warships and transports from Formosa on Monday.

The enemy vessels, it is believed, will sail for Kwangtung shortly. Despite the Japanese naval concentration, peace and calm still prevails in southeastern Fukien.

It is learned here that the Japanese on Kinmen Island have been despatched to the front in Kwangtung. They have been substituted by a detachment of troops from Amoy.

On Monday, the Japanese in Amoy opened artillery fire at the islands in the neighbourhood of Amoy. No damage was caused. Central News.

ART EXHIBITION AT PEAK HOUSE

Splendid Portraits By Miss G. Owen

Miss G. Owen, well-known artist, is holding her second one-man show of her works in Hongkong, which will be her final exhibition here.

Surrounded by a large group of men and women of the Colony, Miss Owen received many compliments upon her new exhibits. The portrait work is outstanding for its resemblance and the expressions which Miss Owen has caught in a face and brought to the canvas. The portrait of His Excellency, Sir Geoffrey Northcote is delightful, the resemblance being perfect.

Another portrait, that of Miss Dorothy Sah, grand-daughter of Admiral Sah, is delightful in the portrayal of her fine features and unusual colouring.

PLEASING TO EYE

The water colours, which alas, were too few, were pleasing to the eye in their colour treatment and the subjects chosen. The several studies of the countryside and scenes in Kowloon give the observer an idea of the colourful territory and land in that section of China.

Miss Owen hopes to return to the North and paint for several months. This country has captured her imagination. Her artistic eye and temperament will not rest until she has produced in colour on canvas more descriptions of this beautiful land.

The black and white sketches are quite modern in subject and hold your attention for some time, and studying them is a pleasure which most of the group gathered at the exhibition enjoyed.

Several of Miss Owen's pictures were purchased at yesterday's exhibition. However, they will be on display again to-day and to-morrow.

Through the courtesy of Mrs. Richard Hancock, Miss Owen is holding her exhibition at 286, The Peak, to-day and to-morrow from 3.30 to 6.30 p.m.

NO ULTERIOR MOTIVE

Photographing Of Defence Works

BRITISH SUBJECT DISCHARGED

Frank Roscoe, a British subject, residing at Repulse Bay Hotel, appeared before Mr. H. R. Butters at the Central Court yesterday charged under Section 2 of the Sketching Prevention Ordinance, 1895, which prohibits the taking of photographs or the making of sketches in certain prohibited areas.

Roscoe was alleged to have taken photographs of certain military defence works at Chung Hom Kok, Stanley Peninsula.

Mr. John Whyatt, Crown Counsel, said that during the past few days the authorities, the Defence Security Officer, Colonel H. B. Holt, had been making thorough enquiries regarding the circumstances of the case and had come to the conclusion that Roscoe had committed the offence without an ulterior motive and was unaware of the fact that photographs had, or could have, any military significance.

Mr. Whyatt told the Court that the prosecution would offer no evidence, under the circumstances, against the defendant. "I only desire to add that the Military authorities are anxious that this case should be brought to the notice of the public, so that they may be aware of the consequences or possible consequences that may ensue as a result of using a camera incautiously anywhere in the vicinity of military defence work," said Counsel.

The defendant was discharged.

BRITISH PAPERS CONFISCATED

Berlin, Oct. 19.

Most British newspapers entering Germany yesterday were confiscated owing to the reports of the New York spy trial appearing in their pages. It is alleged that the spy conspiracy was directed by German officials.—Reuter.

AIR RAID DEFENCES

Money Required For Sandbags

A meeting of the Legislative Council, (Finance Committee), will be held at 2.30 p.m. to-day when items of supplementary expenditure, totalling $799,098 will be considered.

Included in this total is an item for $21,000 for coal and oil fuel for launches (Harbour Department) and another for $25,000 for the Medical Department. The increased number of patients and the high cost of coal, fuel oil and gas have rendered the amount originally provided for this service insufficient. The average monthly expenditure for the past eight months has been $8,723. It is estimated that an additional sum of $25,000 will be required to meet the expenses to the end of the year.

AIR RAID PRECAUTIONS

Under the heading of Defence, D. Air Raid Precautions, a total of $69,750 is requested. It has been thought necessary to purchase immediately 500,000 sandbags at a cost of $39,750. The whole of the sum of $50,000 provided in the 1938 Estimates for Air Raid Precautions will, it is expected, be required for other expenditure under that head and a supplementary vote of $69,750 is requested accordingly.

AIR FRANCE

Passengers to Hanoi by Air France are advised that the plane, which was due to leave Hongkong on Saturday October 22 will be dispatched one day earlier, namely Friday, October 21.

The same plane will arrive from Hanoi one day earlier, namely Wednesday, instead of Thursday.

blocc created by Herr von Ribbentrop lies in its menace double to Great Britain and Soviet Russia alike. And in the South China invasion it has been asserted that it is the hand of Berlin that is guiding. Be this as it may, it is clear that the adventure in South China was commenced with inadequate forces.

The strategy of the Chinese has been to draw the invader into the hinterland and to make a stand on the banks of the East River. This movement has been carried out and the Commander-in-Chief of the Kwangtung forces, General Yu Han Mou, will probably settle down to a long drawn out struggle.

But the Japanese forces being highly mechanized will be capable of quick penetration. The Japanese themselves know what foolhardiness with wilful interference with Hongkong will bring in its wake and certainly appear to be conducting operations away from the border of the Colony.

The "Panay" and "Ladybird" incidents are already past but the complications that such incidents may create are serious enough to cause caution. It is however more than probable that the South China invasion was undertaken by the Japanese militarists so that in the event of the failure to take Wuhan before the end of the year (and this seems likely) they will be able to point to the extended scope of their operations as an excuse, and also to create the illusion for their own People, that their armies are continuously advancing.

THE SOUTH CHINA INVASION

NO ONE KNEW BETTER THAN the Chinese that the invasion of South China had been among the plans of the Japanese military ever since the war began sixteen months ago. But the carrying out of the plan had been deferred up to the present time. It is disappointing to the friends of China that a more stubborn resistance has not been put up by the forces of a Province noted for its fighting men and its nationalistic spirit. However, there undoubtedly are reasons for this which have not yet been disclosed.

It was no secret that immediately upon the development of the last European crisis the Japanese General Staff assembled an expeditionary force for the invasion of South China. Twelve divisions were reported to have been concentrated and the requisite transports held in readiness. The greater part of these men are reported to have been despatched to Formosa while the remainder were expected to have made their landing in South China on or about the 11th October. The actual landing was made on the 12th. That war did not eventuate in Europe over the Czechoslovakian question created a crisis in the Tokyo Cabinet. The naval and military authorities were insistent that the plans for the invasion of South China should be carried out. And it was on this issue that General Ugaki was forced to resign, driving out the last restraining element from a Cabinet which is now completely the servant of the Young Military "expansionists." So war was brought deliberately to the door-step of Hongkong.

The Chinese newspaper "Ta Kung Pao" is an editorial has suggested that Japan hopes that British pressure will be applied to China to force her submission to Japanese domination. In the opinion of this journal the fears expressed by this influential Chinese daily are unfounded. Sir Austen Chamberlain laid down a principle which has governed British policy in China since 1925. And everything that has been done by Great Britain in China since that time has been done "with due respect for the national aspirations of the Chinese People." Other nations have done more or less, but one would hesitate to assert that what was done was always motivated by respect for the "national aspirations of the Chinese People." It has been often stated that the foundation of the Japanese-German-Italian anti-Comintern

FATHER RYAN TO LOOK AFTER REFUGEES

Government Hands Over Care Of Camps

Interviewed by a "Daily Press" representative yesterday, Rev. Thomas F. Ryan, S.J., principal of the Wah Yan College and Council Administrator of the Refugee Emergency Committee, stated that Government had now given over charge of the Refugee Camps to the committee.

Father Ryan, who will be in charge, said that the Committee had decided on placing a paid supervisor in charge of the social services and other work of the various camps, the intention being to have all the camps organized so that the refugees might be self-helping.

Fr. Ryan took the opportunity of thanking the various individuals who have been so helpful in sending clothing and other necessities, but said that much more was needed for the ever-increasing number of refugees coming in daily.

The camps are in a position to accommodate 50,000 refugees, but at present there are a little over two thousand refugees living in them.

NO PERISHABLE FOOD

Full cream milk and blankets are very urgently needed, said Father Ryan, but donors should bear in mind that no perishable foodstuffs should be sent. Donations could be made out to Mr. M. Y. Tang, the treasurer of the Refugee Committee. Mr. Tang is the manager of the Bank of Canton. Donations of articles and foodstuffs should be sent to either of the following places—St. John's Cathedral Hall, St. Andrew's Church, Kowloon, or the European Y.M.C.A.

A special request to owners of cars who are able to dispense with the services of their cars for the use of the committee was also made by Father Ryan.

SOVIET BORDER INCIDENT

Tokyo, Oct. 19. A new incident on the frontier between the Soviet Union and Manchukuo is reported by the Japanese semi-official News Agency to have occurred in the neighbourhood of Hsialinshan.

Canton, Oct. 19. Pamphlets, dropped by Japanese planes, and addressed to Governor Wu Teh-chen, General Yu Han-mou and General Tseng Yang-tu, and other officials, advise surrender rather than the pain of extermination.

CHINESE RETAKE IMPORTANT TOWN

Hwoshan Was Scene Of Bitter Battle

Lihwang, Honan, Oct. 19. Belated reports reaching here from the front claim the Chinese recapture of Hwoshan, an important town in Anhwei, on the morning of October 15.

Hwoshan, scene of bitter fighting between the Chinese and Japanese forces during the Japanese push from west Anhwei to the north bank of the Yangtze, is 40 kilometres south of Luan an equal distance west of Shucheng, and connected with these two cities by a network of highways.

The Japanese garrison of Hwoshan, the reports indicate, was routed at Tsotsangho on the outskirts of the town on the morning of October 10 and greatly demoralized. Following up their initial success, the Chinese forces pressed on toward the town with redoubled vigor and forced the Japanese to retreat in the direction of Luan on the evening of October 14.

The Chinese vanguards re-entered Hwoshan early the following morning, after an absence of more than two months. A part of the Chinese forces, without entering, have passed the town in hot pursuit of the fleeing Japanese.

The Chinese vanguards, according to information from military sources, have now reached Ching-shan, ten kilometres north of Hwoshan on the Hwoshan-Luan highway.—Central News.

JAPANESE FAIL TO CROSS EAST RIVER

of the East River should be made at Shekiung after the Bocca Tigris forts have been reduced. But these operations will call for more Japanese troops than are at present fighting in Kwangtung. Therefore, pending the arrival of reinforcements, to be landed either at Bias Bay or within the Pearl River Delta, there will probably be no very considerable fighting north of the East River.

What plans the Chinese have for dealing with the Japanese lines of communications have not been disclosed by reports of guerrilla fighting. However, this will be a factor to determine the time when the Japanese will be able to join battle with the main Chinese forces between the Canton and the Walchow zones.

SERIOUS OPERATION

Despite reports from points along the coast that large numbers of small craft are moving in the direction of Hongkong and the Pearl River Delta the landing of a division of men in the Pearl River is a serious enough operation for the Japanese.

Their difficulty does not arise from the actual manoeuvre involved but by the political significance of the action and the required presence of a large number of Japanese war-craft within the waters of the Pearl River.

The Chinese Divisional Commander in command of the troops which carried out a fighting withdrawal from Bias Bay to Walchow apparently fulfilled the task allotted to him.

General Yu Han-mou and his staff are clearly in control of the situation. And this is evidenced by the manner in which the reinforcements of their own Provincial troops as well as those of Kwangsi were brought into line.

The Japanese have now committed themselves to a definite direction of advance. And in spite of the long line of coast which the Commander of the 4th Route Army had to guard, and the uncertainty of the direction from which the invader would strike, the Japanese have been brought to a standstill within a week at the East River. This is a point which is some distance from their base of supplies, the bulk of which are probably still on the ships, and which also gives the Cantonese Commander elbow room in which to swing his guerrilla units into action.

PLANTS MINED

Canton, Oct. 19. Kwangsi troops continue to stream through and it is estimated that 100,000 are already in the railway area while still more troops are en route. Evacuation is proceeding apace the evacuees including foreign employees at Chinese Government industrial enterprises whose homeward passages have been arranged.

LIFE IMPRISONMENT FOR SHANGHAI COOKBOY

Sequel To Murder Of Russian Girl

Shanghai, October 19. YU YIH-YUEN, 21, COOKBOY, charged with the murder of Miss Margaret Wexler, 22, Russian, on September 30, was this morning sentenced to life imprisonment at the First Special District Court. It is expected that an appeal will be lodged.

The murder was committed in a flat in Broadway Mansions, occupied by Capt. H. M. Smyth, Deputy Commissioner of the Shanghai Municipal Police.

It will be recalled that at a secret session of the First Special District Court, held last Friday prior to the continued hearing of the case, Captain Smyth, by whom the accused was employed, testified before the Judge.

At the first hearing, the accused confessed that he killed Miss Wexler because of a couple of eggs she bought eight bad eggs and scolded him for it. They quarrelled and fought and "in the end I suppose I killed her."—Reuter and Special.

MR. EU TONG-SEN

Mr. King thanked on behalf of the whole Force, Mr. Eu Tong-sen, who had donated $20,000 to the construction of the Pavillion, the foundation stone of which will be laid next month.

In conclusion, Mr. King thanked His Excellency and all present for the interest in the welfare of the Force that their presence at the opening signified.

"I have never subscribed to the lyric that a policeman's lot is not a happy one. It has its difficulties and dark days but they are forgotten when the Government and the community unite in such a generous demonstration of their interest in the welfare of the Police Force," concluded the Commissioner of Police.

His Excellency, presented by Mr. King with a memento in memory of the occasion, thanked him and the members of the Force in a short address.

Speaking in humorous vein, His Excellency dwelt on the possibility of Mr. King's having approached Mr. Eu Tong-sen with a suggestion that "a policeman's lot is not always a happy one," thus arousing the sympathy of that benevolent gentleman that led to the donation for construction of the Pavillion. (Laughter).

SOCCEER, HOCKEY

After tea, His Excellency kicked-off in a football game between a Hongkong Police team and the South China Athletic Association. On the hockey field a Police team faced the Hongkong and Singapore Royal Artillery, the Police also playing La Salle College and the Hongkong Fire Brigade on the basketball courts.

The document is reported to be from the official files at Moscow and declared that the communist party in Ruthenia have two solutions for the future of the country. One was for autonomy within Czechoslovakia and the other "free independence."

The Soviets are alleged to have recommended the Ruthenians to work for the first alternative and added that Ruthenia will be the advance fortress in Central Europe for the working masses.

The Exchange correspondent declared that this document will give Rome the opportunity of openly favouring Hungarian annexation of Ruthenia.—Reuter.

CHINA'S MEN FIGHT UNDER HANDICAP

Shu and her colleagues saw was eager and anxious to go back for more.

In conversation with these men, the ladies realised that the main cause of their hatred against the Japanese was not so much for the sufferings they themselves had undergone on the field of battle, against superior-equipped and mechanised troops, as the barbarous methods the would-be conquerors employed when, in certain cases, their occupation of a village or town would be accompanied by the wholesale bayoneting of the wounded and the dead to make sure that not a soul survived!

Due to the shortage of medical supplies, beds, and ambulance workers, the conditions at the military hospital and first-aid stations near the front were such as might have daunted the stoutest heart.

Wounded soldiers in their blood-stained uniforms had to lie on the ground unattended for days in the emergency stations before their turn came for transportation to the base hospitals.

GAS POISONING

The majority of the wounded suffered from gas poisoning and these presented a ghastly sight. Bleeding from their eyes, ears, noses and mouths, their blistered limbs incapacitated, constantly molested by swarms of flies, these gallant men suffered untold agony till in most cases merciful death released them. Malarial fever, which raged unchecked chiefly owing to the shortage of quinine, also took heavy toll of these indomitable Chinese defenders.

GALLANT FRENCH NUNS

The hospital at Nanchang, run by the brave French sisters, made a deep impression on the visiting group. The nuns had been moving from place to place with the Chinese army since the beginning of the war, doing all they could for the wounded. For their noble and unselfish work they have won the undying gratitude of the Chinese nation.

Considering her story, which cannot but win for China the sympathy of all who read it, Miss Shu made this moving appeal:

"Please urge the people of Hongkong to contribute generously to aid us in this unequal war that has been forced upon us. Beg them to give of their wealth to help us buy gas masks, medical supplies and winter clothing. Even old gramophone records, to cheer the troops while resting, will be most welcome."

"All donations and contributions may be made to the following receiving centres:—

The Hongkong National Women's Relief Association, Bank of Canton Building;

The Hongkong Women's Soldiers' Relief Association, Wang Hing Building;

and the Hongkong Chinese Women's Club, Wyndham Street."

Shanghai Win By Twenty Shots On Fast Green

The Shanghai Lawn Bowls team won the second Interport match yesterday on the Civil Service Cricket Club's green at Happy Valley when they beat Hongkong by 30 shots to 10.

The green was very fast and thus favoured the Shanghai team who are used to playing on a fast green.

There was little to choose between the No. 1 men of both teams, Alves and Swartzell, but on the second last head a wood was lying in shot for the Colony but J. Hollidge (skip) knocked it out and left Shanghai a tek.

Following were the teams:—
HONGKONG:—L. F. Xavier, H. A. Alves, E. C. Fincher, and J. Hollidge (skip).

SOFTBALL NOTES

American Girls To Play Here?

(BY R. O. Y.)

Last Sunday's programme began with a four innings game in which the Central British Ladies clashed with a combination of the Chinese Girls' Club and the newly organised "Panthers." With the Combine leading by only 1 run, the Chinese Girls replaced the Panthers in the fourth inning to garner 10 runs to make the final score 18 to 5, with the C. B. A. Ladies at the short end.

RECREIO: 9 C. B. A.: 8

In the most exciting game of the day, Recreio, for whom A. V. Gosano and Nick Beltrao performed well, were very fortunate to score their win by a 1 run margin. The C. B. A. meeting a team of experienced baseballers, gave their best display to date, and showed that they are likely to trouble the strongest teams in the league. Bill Muir took batting honours and stole two bases, and Tom Whitley was errorless in defence. Stan MacNider pitched well but received little support from his fielders.

MACHINE GUN: 24 TROJANS: 2

The Gunners, in chalking up the highest score of the day, showed great batting strength against mediocre pitching. Donald Anderson's four runs included a home run. Although penalized for illegal pitching on several occasions, Tommy Madar was very steady and issued no free passes. The Trojans played well for the first half of the game, but then committed 17 errors to allow the Gunners to score 22 runs in the last 4 innings. Alves, on the mound and later at 1st base was outstanding.

BASEBALL CLUB: 16

ST. JOSEPH'S: 10
Greater experience won for the Baseballers, although the students created a surprise by jumping out to a 9 run lead in the first two stanzas. The Baseballers then tightened up, to allow St. Joseph's only a single tally in the last 5 innings, while garnering 16 runs on 10 hits to give them their first league points. Waggoner and Brown showed up well for the winners and Neves and Hollandas were the most promising of the schoolboys.

AMERICAN GIRLS TEAM
Although no definite arrangements have yet been made, it seems fairly certain that local fans will be given the opportunity of seeing in action, the American Girls team which is making a goodwill tour of the Far East. This squad of 30 players, reputed to be the best in the U.S.A., will arrive in Hongkong on November 3, on their way to Manila where they will appear in a series of exhibition games.

Mr. Victor Hugo, well-known local showman, has already approached local league officials with the object of providing the tourists with some local opposition.

LOCAL LADIES

It has been intimated that at least seven local ladies teams are being organised, and league officials are optimistic about the prospects of starting a ladies' league sometime next month. The latest recruits, the Diocesan Girls' School, held a practice session on Tuesday afternoon, and Mrs. Bottomley, aided by Bill Smith, had the pleasure of coaching some 45 keen would be softballers.

Result Of Dr. Funk's Visit Awaited

Berlin, October 19

An open declaration of Germany's intentions in South-East Europe is contained in a highly significant article appearing on Wednesday in the "Essener Nation Zeitung" — General Goering's paper.

The article says:

"Our share in the South-East European trade is so great that it is impossible to force us out. Moreover, the economic situation in no other countries supplements each other so well as that in many. The necessity of German-South-Eastern Europe and German-economic relations with the Balkan countries admits of just a little discussion as does the fact that all participants in the South-East axis, including Rumania and Greece, are endeavouring to im-

Germany cannot remain inactive at the attempts to combat her influence in the Balkans; even these attempts are not disturbing to her."

First Germany will await the results of Minister Funk's visit to the Balkan countries. Further trip will follow should our partners not be able to turn aside from purely political attempts to sever Germany from her natural industrial markets and sources of raw materials.

Political credits advanced to the Balkan countries by certain powers can never be so large and advantageous as the mutual industrial relations with Germany, the leaders of which will resort without hesitation to credits for barrier purposes should this become necessary for solving the existing difficulties." — Transocean

Need For A New Moral Climax

Dr. Frank Buchman, founder of the Oxford Group Movement, in addressing a recent meeting of the World Assembly of the Group in Interlaken, said:

"The world is at the cross-roads. The choice is guidance or guns. We must listen to guidance. We will listen to guns."

"Every statesman admits that the world needs a new moral climax. We need an answer not only for the immediate crisis, but for the recurrent crises. Peoples and nations for a long time have been thinking abnormally. Sooner or later, the superhuman power has to come to change the course of thinking of the ordinary man and the world who lead."

BANKRUPT OF THOUGHT

"Spiritual leadership must have a content of positive action—greater than what the world needs."

The market opened 1/4 of a cent lower for all deliveries as compared with Saturday's closing quotations.

Early in the morning the market ruled quiet and dull in sympathy with easier advices received from New York. Although demand for "spot" Rubber was fair, dealers and speculators displayed very little interest to operate, preferring to adopt a waiting attitude.

Later in the session the market encountered easiness on speculative liquidation which chiefly consisted of profit-taking and hedge selling, causing a price-decline of 1/4 cent for all deliveries.

During the last trading hour, however, the market recovered this set-back, closing with a very quiet undertone.

American Statistical Figures were released as follows:

	Sept.	Aug. 1938
Consumption in U.S.A.	37,823	38,170 tons
Imports into U.S.A.	37,374	31,090

After ruling steady, the market eased on Eastern selling and disappointing New York cables.

NEW YORK COTTON

Prices early declined on moderately lower Liverpool advices, Bombay liquidation and Commission House selling. Later, the market rallied on covering, a higher Stock market and some local buying. Finally, it eased again on Spot-house and New Orleans selling, with the market closing barely steady.

NEW YORK RUBBER

There was an early decline in prices on Commission House selling and the heaviness of securities. Later, the market rallied with the improvement in the Stock market and on an encouraging report from the motor industry.

CHICAGO WHEAT

The market gradually moved into lower ground on unfavourable foreign cables and a weak Winnipeg market. The market lacked interest and there was a poor export demand.

NEW DRUG SAVES CHILD'S LIFE

Cure After Twelve Hours

A seven-year-old Wolverhampton girl, ill with pneumococcal meningitis, a disease from which few recover, has been cured by a new drug.

Doctors had been waiting for such a case, following Dr. L. E. H. Whitby's disclosure earlier this year of the protection afforded to mice against experimental pneumococcal infection, by a drug of the sulphamidamide group, known for short as M and B 933.

The little girl was admitted to the Royal Hospital, Wolverhampton, in July, desperately ill, and treatment begun with M. and B. 933. After 11 days the child was well on the road to recovery in mid-August she was in perfect health.

Dr. S. C. Dyke, Director of the Pathological Department of the hospital, writing in "The Lancet," describes the response as dramatic, and as leaving little room for doubt as to the drug's efficacy.

"From the evidence of the temperature chart," he writes "it would appear that the infection had been successfully combated by the end of 12 hours from the beginning of treatment."

"Pneumococcal meningitis is not an uncommon condition, and until the introduction of the drugs of the sulphamidamide group its mortality has been little short of 100 per cent."

FOREIGN UMBRELLA LEADS TO FINE

No Mark Of Origin

Littlewood's Mail Order Stores Ltd., of Oxford-street, W., were summoned at Marlborough-street recently for selling an umbrella contrary to the Merchandise Marks Act, 1926.

Mr. John Maude, prosecuting for the Umbrella Components Association, said it was an offence to sell imported umbrella ribs, tubes or frames unless they bore an indication of origin. Littlewood's, a large concern with various branches sold a 2s 11d umbrella which contained parts made abroad and which did not bear the stamp or word "foreign." The umbrella was not wholly of foreign manufacture.

On June 11 a representative of the Association bought from Littlewood's a 1s 11d umbrella which was absolutely and entirely foreign, in all probability Japanese. There was no indication of its origin.

Mr. Anthony Hawke, for the company, who pleaded guilty, said the firm had some suspicion about these umbrellas and they were withdrawn from stock. They had taken every precaution to avoid infringing the Act. He felt that a technical infringement had taken place.

The magistrate imposed a fine of £5, with £10 lss costs.

The Kwangtung People's Mobilisation Committee at a meeting on Sunday decided on the public rallying of all youths above 18 years of age to join in the Mass Propaganda Corps. They will be sent to the various districts urging the masses to co-operate in the defence of Kwangtung.

The People's Anti-Japanese Society in Hainan Island has summoned the youths to offer their services at the front. Men and women between the ages of 18 and 30, who have had some military training, may register up to October 25. Each candidate is entitled to receive a remuneration of $50.

PARTY UNITY

APPEAL

Anthony Eden's

Message

London, Oct. 18.

Mr. Anthony Eden, speaking at the International Peace Society meeting in the Guildhall to-day, again appealed for party unity in tackling the national defence problem.

He argued that Britain would continue to be out-distanced in the arms race, as long as she continued her present methods.

It rearmament could be more efficiently and speedily carried out by a Government representing all parties, then the case for such a Government must surely be unanswerable. Material rearmament was not all. Britain's whole national economy would require an overhaul, with a new effort to deal with domestic problems, such as unemployment.

Unity, strength and justice were the three equipments if Britain's work for peace was to be successful. Britain's strength should be used, not to impose her will or to show intolerance, but to uphold certain standards of international conduct, without which there could not be peace.

RUGBY TRIAL AT VALLEY

New Method Of Passing

On the Club ground, Happy Valley, yesterday, a Club XV defeated an Army side in a friendly rugby football match by 8 points to 3.

The Club three-quarters introduced a new form of passing, similar to that seen in American football, which proved rather successful in gaining ground. Several players moved around the player in possession of the ball and when the opposing forwards approached they moved off in different directions, so much so that the Army forwards were at a loss.

D. B. Nelson and B. Hynes showed good understanding in their passing and the opening try resulted from their combination. Hynes placing the ball between the posts. The kick was converted by MacGrath.

The Army side was erratic with rather poor combination. The scrum-half was constantly off-side and the pack took too long to break up after a scrum. The three-quarter line, however, did better and occasionally had the ball in Club territory.

Munro, playing on the wing, was good. His try in the second half was the result of a fine run with Cessford. The kick was not converted. Dobson replied for the Army shortly before the final whistle.

CLUB "A" XV:—G. Low; A. Munro, M. W. MacGrath, D. B. Nelson, H. F. Hopkins; F. Cessford, R. Rutherford; W. A. Johnson, B. Hynes, W. Stoker; T. Swan, B. Hynes; A. G. Dalziel, G. L. Fastigate and J. Redman.

AN ARMY XV:—Walt; Dobson; Hilton, Bird, Davis; Artinsall, Calvert; Brinkley, Picketon, Collins; Natch, Larett, MacEmey and Pike.

J. P. Xavier, H. Summers, F. X. P. Almada e Castro, senior, F. X. P. Almada e Castro, junior, P. M. N. da Silva, H. Seth, J. Coline, L. E. Gutierrez and Mrs. R. F. Forbes.

MR. JOSEPH GOULD

The many friends of Mr. Joseph Gould, a sharebroker for very many years in Hongkong, will be sorry to learn that he died in Los Angeles at the end of last month while visiting America from this Colony for the sake of his health.

Mr. Gould was born in Bathurst and came to Hongkong in 1882 at the age of 18 to take up a clerical position in the office of David Sassoon and Co. Later he left the firm and branched out for himself as a sharebroker, meeting with considerable success. He held a seat on the Hongkong Stock Exchange and was for long a Committee member and Secretary. Mr. Gould's first wife predeceased him in 1933 after a married life of 40 years. Last year he married again, and lived in England for a time, until he travelled on medical advice to Hongkong. Ailing again after a few months here, he left with his wife for America in July.

BIG GAME HUNTER

In Queen Mary Hospital

An American, Mr. F. T. Smith, well-known as a big game hunter and procurer is now in the Colony, arriving on the China National Aviation Corporation plane which flew to the north ten days ago on a trial operation flight.

Mr. Smith has been in Chengtu and the territory north of this city in search of full grown pandas which he intends to capture and take to America for public zoos. During the past week Mr. Smith has been confined to the Queen Mary Hospital for treatment and is under the care of Professor Gerrard. It is not known if Mr. Smith upon his recovery will go back to the north or proceed to the United States.
